

Advoware – the optimal digital support for individual lawyers

Intuitive and functional - Advoware simplifies administration and thus creates more time for the actual legal work.

Task

After starting his own law firm, Mr. Schwartzmann needed a law firm software tailored to his needs in order to access data and documents quickly and reliably without lengthy searches. Effective file and document management quickly became a necessity. Soon later, he also needed electronic data traffic with courts and colleagues, which ideally had to be integrated into the existing software architecture.

Solution

Schwartzmann quickly found what he was looking for in advoware. A fair price, intuitive operation and a comprehensive range of functions with appointment management, file management, electronic legal correspondence, invoicing and more convinced me.

Benefit

By using advoware, supplemented by useful add-on functions (viewer for documents, remote signature), Mr. Schwartzmann can concentrate on the core of his work as a lawyer and does not have to invest time in office organization. If there is any questions or problem, software support is just a phone call away. As a technically interested lawyer, he always compare the offers of other providers of law firm software - and would always choose advoware again.

I would choose advoware over and over again.
